Can heritage and cultural-led regeneration hold the key to Bridgetown's future and its return to a vibrant multi-functional centre, especially in a post-pandemic world?

In this follow up to our World Town Planning Day webinar "Bridgetown Revitalisation" we expand on the conversation surrounding the rebirth of the capital city through a heritage focused lens; exploring the projects and key drivers needed for a successful transformation.

Sir Paul Altman shares his experience of delivering successful projects in historic Bridgetown and discusses the challenges and opportunities of heritage-led regeneration with a panel of experts.
